WHERE ARE YOU REALLY FROM?

Award-winning geneticist, writer and broadcaster Adam Rutherford takes children on an amazing adventure through millions of years of human history, teaching them all about evolution, race and the real human story.

Have you ever thought about who you might be related to? What if we told you that you were related to EXTRAORDINARY EMPERORS, GREAT KINGS and MAGNIFICENT QUEENS? Well, in fact, everyone is. And geneticist Adam Rutherford is here to tell you how.

Come on an extraordinary adventure through millions of years of human history where you will learn the story of our species from evolution to dinosaurs to YOU! You will meet kings and queens, pharaohs and Vikings, and see just how far and wide humans have migrated around the world.

- Award-winning geneticist, writer and broadcaster Adam Rutherford takes inspiration from his bestselling A Brief History of Everyone Who Ever Lived and his Sunday Times bestseller How to Argue with a Racist to enrich children with incredible facts about genetics and evolution, and to offer an important resource for understanding race in a fun and accessible way
- 'Laugh-out-loud funny – and you'll learn lots too!' – Adam Kay, author of Kay's Anatomy
- Co-written by children's author Emma Norry and with two-colour quirky comic panels by Adam Ming

BE MORE WEDNESDAY

A brand-new journal for anyone who's feeling a bit goth, unofficially inspired by current icons, including Jenna Ortega as Wednesday Addams in Wednesday.

Featuring a fun and darkly fascinating gothic world, with plenty of advice on creating the dream (or should that be nightmare?) look, this book offers tips on ice-cool goth style, plenty of affirmations, some ghostly gourmet recipes and some fearsomely fun tricks to play. It also explains why it's OK to be different. After all, who hasn't wanted to dress in black, max out the mascara ... and execute their little brother sometimes?

- Wednesday is Netflix's third most popular original show, after Stranger Things and Bridgerton, with huge appeal to teen audiences worldwide
- A mix of quirky, fun information on pop-culture goth icons, activities and fill-in elements, with line drawings and photography
- To be followed by further trend-led titles, starring the world's biggest pop-culture icons

GROWING UP AUTISTIC AND HAPPY

As a child, Camilla loved patterns and putting things in order. She was obsessed with Stephen Hawking, and the only language she really understood was science. Diagnosed with autism aged 8, Camilla saw the world very differently.

But with science as her sidekick, she was able to translate ideas she could understand, such as photosynthesis and algorithms, on to things she couldn't, such as dealing with emotions and finding your voice.

In this unique and brilliant book, Camilla shares her scientific survival guide to growing up, helping young readers navigate the world around them, giving them the courage to grow up perfectly happy in who they are.

- An honest and own-voices guide about growing up with autism and learning to interpret the world differently
- Camilla is the youngest-ever person and first writer of colour to win the prestigious Royal Society Prize, 2020. Former winners include Bill Bryson, Linda Scott and Gaia Vince
- Camilla is also a bestselling adult author – Explaining Humans has been translated into 11 languages to date

This high-interest series for children aged 9+ separates the facts from the fakes. From inventions and dinosaurs to survival skills and science, each statement is explored and explained to reveal whether it is right or wrong.

- In a world of fake news, this series encourages children to question common myths and research facts to find out what's fact and what's not
- Quirky eye-catching illustration and a two-tone design make this an appealing and unputdownable high-interest leisure read
- Can also be used to support school topics
