Rennie Parker's parents fight about money, life, and him being the biggest mistake of their lives. A night of domestic upheaval sees him get his long-term wish of staying with his half-brother—but not before he watches a stranger with bionic powers excavating a high-tech vault in his backyard. Investigations land him in a world of pain with a time gap he can't explain. Left with nightmares of misused children and fragmented memories, he must piece it together before—? If only he could remember.

Aussie teenager, Rennie Parker, is thrust into a world of forced experimentation in a quest for immortality and control.

- A young adult near-science fiction story exploring the difficult issues of domestic violence, substance abuse, bioethics, trafficking, and youth crime
- This fast-paced thriller is a journey of belonging that explores complex family relationships, acceptance, and self-worth
- Despite the gritty elements of this story, Immortal Mistake has a resolution that is ultimately hopeful.

INTEGRATE (2ND EDITION)

Adele Jones

Radical gene therapy freed Blaine Colton from his disease-afflicted body. Just when he thinks he can be a normal teen, he's told his procedure was unapproved, making him an illegal GMO. Subjected to constant testing, refused contact with his parents and deprived of life-sustaining medication, Blaine begins to suspect something, much bigger than himself, is going on. Desperate, he resolves to escape and find Professor Ramer, developer of his therapy. But Ramer's gone and time is running out.

Trust the science—unless your life depends on it. Seventeen-year old Blaine, mitochondrial disease survivor, has finally begun a real life and now it's set to fall apart.

- Fast-paced, character-driven, relatable, young-adult science fiction.
- Puts a face to challenging real-world issues, like terminal disease, disability, gene-therapy, and perceptions of self-worth.
- Raises questions about medical ethics and scientific integrity relevant to our time, without sacrificing plot.

CAN'T BEAT THE CHEMISTRY

Kat Colmer

9781925563696 | RHIZA EDGE | 260pp | 77,000 words | Paperback | 13+ years |
APR 2019 | AU $19.99 | NZ $24.99 |

Ionic and covalent bonds are a piece of cake for MJ. But human bonds are a little harder ... There are only two things MJ wants in her final year of high school: 1) Glowing grades and ... 2) to convince uber-smart, chiselled-jaw Jason they'd be a winning team outside the science lab as well as in. Tutoring deadbeat drummer, Luke, isn't part of the plan. After all, he has average intelligence, takes disorganised notes and looks like a partied-out zombie at their study sessions! Not even his taut biceps will win MJ over. But MJ learns that she could be tutored in a few life lessons too: That sometimes there's good reason to skip chemistry tutorials. That intelligence is so much more than a grade average. And that sometimes you can't beat the chemistry.

Human bonds can be hard to create but, sometimes... you can't beat the chemistry.

- Heart-warming story of an unlikely between two people seemingly miles apart who both need help from each other to learn how they want their lives to be
- Light-hearted, authentic, and cute, read with characters you root for a message about judging other and fighting for your dreams.
- Study-driven main character has to learn about friendship, relationships, and overcoming her inner judgements.

REMIND ME WHY I'M HERE

Kat Colmer

9781925563924 | RHIZA EDGE | 224pp | 60,000 words | Paperback | 12+ years |
AUG 2020 | AU $16.99 | NZ $20.99 |

18 year-old Maya leaves Chicago for a six week Australian home stay, she assumes she's heading to beautiful Barangaroo with its famous Sydney Harbour views—NOT Barangaroo Creek, a stinking hot, fly-ridden, wi-fi dead zone hours from a decent body of water. Maya is convinced she's in for six weeks of Hicksville hell. Gus has an important trip planned—a trip that does NOT include an animal-phobic girl from the States ticking off items on her Aussie "must-do" list. So he comes up with a list of his own—one guaranteed to send Maya back across the Pacific, so he can enjoy the last of his freedom before heading off to agricultural college. But when Maya doesn't scare that easily, sparks begin to fly. Sometimes it takes someone half a world away to remind you of all the reasons you're here.

There are hidden depths to clichéd bucket-lists and secret summer trips. Sometimes you just need someone to remind you why you're here.

- Likeable and relatable main characters and a sweet love story.
- Adventures and a prank war using Australian wildlife
